● Pupil’s use of mobile and smart technology

‘Behaviour in School: Advice for headteachers and school staff’ 2022 states:

“Headteachers should decide if mobile phones can be used during the school day. Many pupils, especially as they get older, will have one of their own. Allowing access to mobiles in school introduces complexity and risks, including distraction, disruption, bullying and abuse, and can be a detriment to learning. Headteachers should consider restricting or prohibiting mobile phones to reduce these risks. If headteachers decide not to impose any restrictions on mobile phones, they should have a clear plan to mitigate the risks of allowing access to phones. This plan, as part of the school's behaviour policy, should outline the approach to mobile phones and be reiterated to all pupils, staff and parents throughout the school year. Headteachers should ensure it is consistently and fairly applied."

- Pupils will be educated regarding the safe and appropriate use of mobile and smart technology, including Personal mobile or smart technology devices, and will be made aware of behaviour expectations and consequences for policy breaches.
- Safe and appropriate use of mobile and smart technology will be taught to pupils as part of an embedded and progressive safeguarding education approach using age-appropriate sites and resources. Further information is contained within our child protection and relevant specific curriculum policies.
- Personal mobile or smart technology devices will not ordinarily be used on site by pupils.
- Personal mobile or smart devices will not be used by pupils during lessons or formal educational time, unless as part of an approved and directed curriculum-based activity with consent from a member of staff.
- The use of personal mobile or smart devices for a specific education purpose does not mean that blanket use is permitted.
- Staff will only allow pupils to use their mobile phones or personal mobile or smart technology devices as part of an educational activity, following a risk assessment, with approval from the Leadership Team.
- Five Acre Wood School expects pupils' personal mobile or smart technology devices and mobile phones to be kept safe and secure when on site.
- If a pupil needs to contact their parents or carers whilst on site, they will be allowed to use a school phone or a member of staff will phone, using the class/school main phone, on their behalf.
- Parents are advised to contact their child via the school office or using email/Teams
- If a pupil requires access to a personal mobile or smart technology devices in exceptional circumstances, for example medical assistance and monitoring, this will be discussed with the headteacher prior to use being permitted.

- Any arrangements regarding access to personal mobile or smart technology devices in exceptional circumstances will be documented and recorded by the school.
- Any specific agreements and expectations (including sanctions for misuse) will be provided in writing and agreed by the learner and/or their parents carers before use is permitted.

This may result in the withdrawal from either that examination or all examinations.
- Screening, searching and confiscation of electronic devices
 - Electronic devices, including mobile phones, can contain files or data which relate to an offence, or which may cause harm to another person. This includes, but is not limited to, indecent images of children, pornography, abusive messages, images or videos, or evidence relating to suspected criminal behaviour.

 - If deemed to be necessary and appropriate, searches of personal mobile or smart technology devices may be carried out in accordance with our Searching, Screening and Confiscation policy Policies | Five Acre Wood School and the DfE 'Searching, Screening and Confiscation' guidance.

- In determining whether there is a 'good reason' to examine images, data or files, the headteacher or an authorised member of staff will need to reasonably suspect that the images, data or files on the device has been, or could be used, to cause harm, undermine the safe environment of the school and disrupt teaching, or be used to commit an offence.
- In determining whether there is a 'good reason' to erase any images, data or files from the device, the member of staff should consider whether the material found may constitute evidence relating to a suspected offence. In those instances, the data or files should not be deleted, and the device must be handed to the police as soon as it is reasonably practicable.
- If the data or files are not suspected to be evidence in relation to an offence, the headteacher or an authorised member of staff may delete the images, data or files if the continued existence of the data or file is likely to continue to cause harm to any person and the pupil and/or the parent refuses to delete the data or files themselves.
- If the headteacher or a member of staff finds any data or files that they suspect might constitute a specified offence, they will be delivered to the police as soon as is reasonably practicable.
